

French Association for Tourism Management

Call for Papers 10th conference

“The future of Tourism: mutations and adaptations”

May 31 and June 1-2, 2023

University of Girona (Spain)

In order to promote academic advances in tourism management, the AFMAT (<https://afmat.org/>) is organizing its 10th annual conference at the University of Girona. The conference aims to bring researches that can contribute to scientific advances in tourism and leisure sectors. It is also an opportunity to have a fruitful exchange among researchers and practitioners in the field of tourism management.

Considering the challenges of the current context (pandemic, climate issues, global economic crisis, energy crisis, shortage of raw materials and human resources, digital transformation, etc.), the conference will focus on the theme: “The future of Tourism: mutations and adaptations”.

Topics include (but are not limited to):

- Epistemology and research methodologies;
- Methodological innovations (e. g. machine learning);
- Analysis of public policies regardless of the territorial level adopted;
- DMO strategies and practices;
- Destination communication strategies and brand development;
- Study of the competitiveness and performance of destinations;
- Study of tourist behavior;
- Marketing of tourism and leisure;
- Alternative forms of tourism (wine tourism, ecotourism, philanthrotourism, etc.)
- New forms of tourism (digital nomadism, worldtourism, etc.);
- Sustainable tourism and climate change;
- Strategies and practices of tourism enterprises;
- Management of the accommodation sector;
- Collaborative economy (innovations and business models);
- Digital innovations (virtual reality, artificial intelligence, robotics; etc.);
- etc.

Scientific committee

The scientific committee is chaired by Raquel CAMPRUBI (Faculté de Tourisme, Université de Gérone, Espagne) and Olga GONCALVES (IAE, Université de Perpignan Via Domitia). Each submission to the conference will be reviewed by two members of the scientific committee. Any question can be addressed to raquel.camprubi@udg.edu and/or olga.goncalves@univ-perp.fr
